

Returned Disputed $7,500

Hoffa Protests That Charge of Extortion Reduced, Senate Is Unfair to Him

WASHINGTON (AP)—James R. Hoffa acknowledged today he once returned more than $7,500 to some grocers after he had been charged with extortion.

But Hoffa protested to the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee that the charge had been reduced to a misdemeanor, and contended the matter was being put in an unfair light in its presentation at the committee's hearings.

The 44-year-old Hoffa was brought to the stand as the culmination of three weeks of hearings into charges that he placed racketeers in key New York Teamsters unions posts to capture union political control of the area for Hoffa.

But Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, opening the questioning, swung first into Hoffa's background and police record.

Kennedy asked how many times Hoffa had been arrested.

"I don't know, Bob," Hoffa said. "I think it was about 17 times I was picked up. In many instances the charges were dismissed but in three of these cases there were convictions."

Kennedy said in one case the grand jury charged Hoffa with extortion in the collection of money from some grocers.

Flaring up Hoffa said this charge was later reduced to a misdemeanor.

"I'm not saying you were guilty of extortion," Kennedy told him. "You're implying it, sir," Hoffa retorted. "You're implying that I am guilty of extortion and it isn't true."

Kennedy said that anyway, as a result of the case, Hoffa returned $7,500.

"I think really it was something more than that," Hoffa said.

Hoffa, now the odds on man to succeed Dave Beck as president of the nation's biggest union, told the senators when he took the witness chair that he was reserving the right to refuse to answer any questions he regarded as outside the scope of their investigation.

Hoffa posed for photographers before he took the witness stand. Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) granted a request that no pictures be taken while Hoffa was undergoing questioning.

Hoffa's lawyer, George S. Fitzgerald, Detroit, said that taking pictures during testimony would divert Hoffa's attention.

Hoffa had a second lawyer with him, David Previant.

McClellan administered the usual oath to a witness, asking whether Hoffa intended to tell the truth.

"Yes, I do," Hoffa replied.

Ike Reported Hopeful Senate Will Raise Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) described President Eisenhower today as "quite hopeful" that the Senate will restore a good part of the $800,000,000 foreign aid cut voted by the House.

The President's attitude was reported by the Senate Republican leader after he and other key GOP congress members held their regular Tuesday morning session with the President.

The meeting came as the Senate Appropriations Committee made ready to decide whether to heed the administration's request for restoration of the foreign aid funds.

At a news conference, Knowland said Eisenhower regards it as highly important that the money be put back in the appropriation bill.

Knowland said his personal opinion is that the Senate probably will not restore the full cut voted by the House, "but we are hopeful" that the House figure will be considerably increased.

The President himself raised that possibility last week. Knowland said today, however, that Eisenhower at that time had made it clear a decision regarding a special session would be "contingent on world conditions as well as on the amount of appropriations" for foreign aid finally voted by Congress at this session.

Angle Parking Fades Out

Will Consider Possible Buildings Bond Issue

By D. Kelly Scruton
The City Council voted Monday night, to authorize Mayor Julian H. Bagby to confer and enter into a contract with the firm of Luce, Thompson and Crowe, investment bankers, to study Sedalia's financial condition and recommend a proposed bond issue for a municipal building and fire station.

The motion was made by Councilman C. L. Kelley and concurred in by the entire Council. The motion was along the lines of a recommendation made by the City Planning and Zoning Board some time ago.

A report from the Missouri Public Service Co., regarding the changing of the lighting system on Broadway through the city, on Ohio from Ninth to the Missouri-Kansas-Texas right-of-way and on Main Street from Washington to Grand and other changes of street lights, was read by City Clerk W. C. Ream.

A complete revision of all of Sedalia's white ways is under discussion and depends greatly upon the special election to be held in September to determine whether the city shall franchise the Missouri Public Service Co., again for a period of 20 years.

Councilman Kelley also moved that the Mayor and City Clerk be authorized to enter into an agreement with a responsible firm or engineer for the purpose of engineering and supervising work on parking lots to be secured and built under the $350,000 revenue bond issue.

Angle parking in Sedalia will soon be discontinued, according to ordinances which were introduced at the meeting. This change in the traffic ordinance will stop such angle parking as is now done on Main Street and also around the Pettis County Court House. This is in conformance with the city planning for parking lots in the business area, and to relieve the dangers of cars backing out into traffic.

An ordinance authorizing the issuance of the bonds was read for the first time. The city has already entered into agreement for the bond issue and sold the bonds to three firms, and they become legalized when the city ordinance is finally passed, at the next Council meeting.

Councilman Woodrow Garrison asked permission of the Council for the right to purchase new plates for the parking meters changing the night-time use of the meter parking to Friday instead of Saturday. It was approved.

He was also given permission to purchase a new V-8 motor for the City conveyor which has broken down.

Councilman Dr. Ira White asked approval for seven street lights and they were authorized. The lights will be at 18th and Wagner, Kay and Sue Lane, Kay and Griffith, Albert Lee and Sue Lane, Margaret and Sue Lane, Sixth and Madison, and on Massachusetts between 11th and 13th Streets.

Councilman Harry Moore asked (Please turn to page 2, column 7)

Knight to Cross-File

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Gov. Goodwin J. Knight quickly followed up his formal entry into California's 1958 political race with word today he would run on both his own Republican and Democratic tickets in the gubernatorial primary next June 3.

Knight announced his candidacy for re-election yesterday, nearly 10 months ahead of the election, in an apparent move to get the jump on his prospective Republican rival, Sen. William F. Knowland.

He made it clear that if the Senate minority leader decides to run against him, he would raise the question whether Knowland sought the governorship as a stepping stone to the presidency in 1960.

His statement came amidst Democratic charges of a "deal" between Knowland and Vice President Nixon. As the Democrats tell it, Nixon would back Knowland for governor; Knowland would support Nixon for president, with Nixon swinging to Knowland if he can't make it himself.

Knight pledged that if re-elected "I will stay on the job and work at the job during my full tenure." The next presidential election will fall right in the middle of the four-year term.

Knight, in disclosing his plans to cross-file, called himself a staunch Republican.

"I don't believe the voters of either party should be given the opportunity to express approval or disapproval of any administration at primary as well as general elections," he added.

Sees Effort To Reduce US Spending

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) said today there are signs the Eisenhower administration is making an earnest effort to cut back government spending as a major step toward slowing inflation.

Byrd said in an interview he believes data brought out in hearings before his Senate Finance Committee contributed to what he regards as a reversal of administration spending policies.

"If this trend continues, I believe we can look forward to a reduced budget next year instead of the increased spending that the administration previously planned," Byrd said.

"In my opinion, government spending is the biggest contributor to inflation. There are signs the administration is coming to realize that and is doing something about it."

Byrd said orders have gone out from Washington to scores of federal installations in Virginia to cut back on the number of their employees and to reduce expenses. He said he has reason to believe this cutback is general.

The Virginia senator said that as nearly as he can calculate at this point, Congress seems likely to make a six-billion-dollar reduction in Eisenhower's original request last January for $73,300,000,000 in new appropriations. That request contemplated spending about $71,800,000,000 of this in the fiscal year that began last July 1.

Guests of Management

Newspaper Boys Have Fun Filled Evening At State Fair Carnival

Fun was the password last night at the Cetlin-Wilson Carnival as 44 Democrat newspaperboys screamed in the fun houses, thrilled on the rides, talked with the fat lady, and watched the exhibitions on the carnival grounds of the Missouri State Fair.

The boys were personal guests of the management and were conducted through the gala and festive grounds by Louis (Peasey) Hoffman, jolly and rotund advertising manager of the hush show, who displays an interest and admiration in the work that newspaperboys do.

Armed with their carrier identification, the group of boys, two abreast, formed a winding line as they sheepishly climbed aboard the Merry-Go-Round, accompanied by adult members of the Democrat circulation staff who cautioned the boys to "hold on tightly."

Then on to the Fun House where the microphones picking up the cries of those inside shrilled to the hearty yells and screams of the carriers, dodging the unexpected gusts of air and whirling on unseen disks.

On the Round-Up, a huge wheel picked the boys up from a horizontal position and soon had them whirling vertically high above the ground. Here some of those with easier stomachs dropped out and watched from the ground (including some of the adults).

The next stop was the Fun in the Dark show where the boys rode through the darkened and frightening corridors and came crashing out through the wooden exit doors laughing and yelling.

The pace was slowed in the Tropical World Exhibit where tropical animal and butterfly life was displayed, including a live iguana and alligator.

On the ferris wheel several boys were unexpectedly thrilled as they seemingly were forgotten and rode around extra times to the chagrin of their companions. The whirling rode though and the whirling wheels gave a multi-colored and panoramic view of the fair grounds.

Jolly Dolly, the bearded fat lady told the carriers that she now weighed 610 pounds, recently reducing from 632. Her greatest weight, she said, was 797 pounds 12 years; 310 pounds at 19 years, and has had a heavy beard growth since birth. She stated that she was happily married and after 42 years in show business was contemplating retirement at the end of the present season.

"Hold my glasses!" "Hang on to my hat!" they yelled on the next ride the Caterpillar, and again the fairground echoed as the top came down on the 44 boys who rode the darkened circle at break-neck speed. All recovered.

Keeping up the thrilling pace, the group continued on to the Tilt-A-Whirl and then the Rocket where on both rides the boys yelled and thrilled to the exhilarating rides.

Concluding the tour was the show at the Lion Motordrome where the dare-devils on motorcycles made believers of the skeptics. Peering down into the rounded and vertical-walled pit most of the boys thought that "anyone can do that," but as

Judge Gives Ruling

Plans to Have Stars Take Witness Stand Are Halted

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Defense plans to send a long procession of movie stars across the witness stand in the criminal libel trial of Confidential and Whisper magazines have been wiped out.

Judge Herbert V. Walker ruled yesterday that testimony could be introduced only concerning magazine stories already read into the record of the trial.

Judge Walker said this means that defense attorney Arthur J. Crowley cannot carry out his intention of calling upwards of 150 celebrities as witnesses. Crowley had said he planned to ask them if stories about them in the magazines are true.

The ruling came on a day which produced these other developments:

1. Former theater employee James Craig reiterated his testimony that actress Maureen O'Hara and a Latin American made ardent love in the back row of a Hollywood theater.

2. Miss O'Hara produced her passport at a news conference to prove that she was in Europe when the theater incident was alleged to have occurred. And she increased her damage suit against Confidential over the story from one to five million dollars.

3. Daniel Ross, New York attorney who passes on stories for Confidential and Whisper, testified he did not consider the O'Hara and Dorothy Dandridge stories obscene.

4. Judge Walker refused to permit the defense to introduce testimony about lie detector tests taken by Mrs. Marjorie Meade, one of the defendants, and Craig during the weekend.

The ruling limiting defense testimony to the articles already read to the jury came when Las Vegas, Nev., jury Mylee Anderson was called to the stand.

Temperatures Expected to Go Up in Missouri

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Continued mild weather, with a few light showers in the northwest, prevailed in Missouri today but the weatherman predicted temperatures would heat up again tomorrow.

Skies were mostly cloudy in the northern portion this morning and there had been some light rainfall. Southern skies were partly cloudy and winds over the state were light to variable. Temperatures ranged from 68 at Rolla to 75 at Kansas City and Columbia at midmorning.

These followed night time lows of 56 at Butler, Columbia and Kirksville.

The forecast was for partly cloudy this afternoon, tonight and Wednesday with scattered showers or thunderstorms in the extreme northwest late tonight and over the north portion Wednesday afternoon. It is expected to be warmer in the northeast tonight and in the east and south portions Wednesday. Wednesday's high is forecast to range from 88 to 92 in the east and 92 to 96 in the west.

Socially Prominent Chrysler Daughter Ill With Leukemia

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Byron C. Foy, socially prominent daughter of the late Walter P. Chrysler, automobile magnate, was critically ill today in Memorial Hospital. She reportedly is suffering leukemia.

Mrs. Foy, often listed as among the world's best dressed women, has been in the hospital since May 20.

Born Thelma Chrysler in Salt Lake City, she became the wife of Foy Dec. 3, 1924. He is a former vice president and director of the Chrysler Corp.

the boys laughed as the wide-eyed animal looked up as he whirled around the circle.

In all, each of the newspaperboys were treated to $2.00 worth of free entertainment. As the group broke up they voiced their thanks to Cetlin-Wilson for a thrilling evening.

At the fairgrounds the delegation was met by one of several high school bands and led in a parade over the grounds and up to the grandstand for the visitors to be on hand to see the starting of the top harness horses of the Grand Circuit.

Those not interested in horse racing toured the exhibits and barns to look over the hundreds of head of prize winning cattle and swine.

The 4-H's and Future Farmers of America competed for the honors in beef cattle with judging being completed late Monday.

Shorthorn division in the 4-H, Robert A. Wells, Paynesville, had the champion shorthorn heifer, and Warren Lee Akins, Union Star, showed the Reserve Champion of the 4-H class, awarded the Reserve Champion of the Junior Show also Missouri Shorthorn Breeder's Special; Virgil Hulan Jr., Madison, Mo., had the Reserve Champion Shorthorn heifer.

In the Future Farmers of America, Bob Harriman, Slater, Mo., had the Champion Angus steer.

In the Hereford division of the 4-H Baby Beef show, the entry of Brownie Hardiman, Jr., Route 2, Potosi, won the Champion steer and the Grand Champion of the Junior division; John Collins, Harrisonville, the Champion heifer with Russell Steiman, Albany, placing the reserve champion Hereford heifer.

Ronnie Rogers, Route 5, Kirksville, in the Angus division, had the Grand Champion of the Junior Missouri breed champion, Carolyn Oberbeck, Star Route 1, Jackson, showed the Reserve champion female.

The 4-H's had a much stronger show in the beef cattle than the Future Farmers, this year.

Smithton 4-H'er Max Kahrs, had the grand champion of the Swine 4-H Show, a Poland China, while Paul Clemen, California, had the reserve champion of the show, the breed being a Berkshire.

In Spotted Poland China, Ruth Allee, Tipton, had a first Gilbert Roepke, Corder, was winner of the Hampshire special, while Betty Jo Reid, Houstonia, won second place in the breed. Paul Clemen was the winner of the Chester White special and also took the second place

A Switch

Usually most of the cases at the state fair hospital are from heat exhaustion and similar ailments but this year it seems that the weather has brought other complaints.

Partly cloudy and warmer tonight and Wednesday; possibility of scattered showers or thunderstorms late Wednesday afternoon; low tonight in mid-60s; high Wednesday near 90.

The temperature at 7 a.m. was 63, 82 at 1 p.m. and 84 at 2 p.m. Low Monday night 59.

The temperature one year ago today, high 72, low 49, with .80 of an inch of rain; two years ago, high 96, low 69; three years ago, high 87, low 67, with .13 of an inch of rain.

Stage at Lake of the Ozarks 58.5 steady.

Yanks Pay Unexpected Visit to Sedalia

The New York Yankees got a little hot under the collar Tuesday afternoon and piled out at the Missouri Pacific in Sedalia. But they weren't looking for any trouble. They already had it. The air conditioning unit in their train broke down. Their train pulled into the depot at 12:30 and was here for about a half-hour. The team was on its way to Kansas City for a scheduled night game there Tuesday against the Athletics.

Thursday is Sedalia Day

Some Sedalians were nettled over a new policy of the Missouri State Fair management to delete designation of Thursday as "Sedalia Day" which it has shared with "Kansas City Day" for many years.

On the other hand there are no longer any Springfield Days, Jefferson City days or St. Joseph Days—only St. Louis and Kansas City Days. Other than having feelings hurt Sedalia is not the worse advertising-wise for the change because as home of the fair Sedalia has its name on the front page, back page and many times inside of the 1957 premium book.

Anyway, recollection has it that Sedalia Day really became a step child of "Big Thursday" over 40 years ago. And Big Thursday was the offspring of an original request made by Mayor J. L. Babcock on September 10, 1901 during the first Missouri State Fair that "all places of business and places where labor is employed be closed at noon Thursday so everyone may be free to take part in the festivities of the occasion."

Sedalians did turn out for the first fair which upon its conclusion was heralded by the Sedalia Democrat as a brilliant success with 20,000 paid admissions for the week. Editor Pete Stratton predicted that if the fair was properly equipped then future Missouri State Fairs would be attended by hundreds of thousands of people. His prophecy came true. Nowadays attendance isn't normal unless there are a half million admissions.

Those who think droughts are something new in these parts may read with interest the news comment in 1901: "A drought, the like of which had never been seen in Missouri, fell like a blight upon the state, ruining the crops and depressing the minds of people so that many felt little like attending the state fair."

Today the Missouri State Fair has not only a large annual payroll, but a huge one during Fair Week. Many Sedalians are employed there. Maintenance and construction work during the years leaves money behind in Sedalia. Private home owners in addition to hotels and motels take in money from visitors for lodging; restaurants and other food outlets do likewise. Feed and grain businesses and a half hundred other service establishments are patronized.

Sedalia, the home of the Missouri State Fair, profits from it many times the amount each year it originally paid to get the fair located here. That figure was $40,000.

True Sedalia's pride is hurt in loss of an officially designated Sedalia Day but time has a way of assuaging hurt feelings. From a practical standpoint Sedalia should quickly adjust to such a change and continue to exemplify its reputation for hospitality. That means practicing COURTESY with capital letters toward all visitors, and supporting the fair by attendance.

Thursday should continue to be observed as Sedalia Day with or without benefit of official designation.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Hoover Eager for Jenks Case Reversal

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — J. Edgar Hoover has been putting the heat on both Houses of Congress to pass the FBI bill to reverse the Supreme Court in the Jenks case. He has almost made it a personal issue as between him and the highest court in the United States.

This is the second time Mr. Hoover has stepped out of his non-political role as an efficient, quiet FBI Chief; the previous time having been his public political appearance with Attorney General Brownell to smear Ex-President Truman in the Harry Dexter White case.

Many Washington observers have wondered why Hoover took this sudden jump into the political arena on the side of Mr. Brownell. As explained by his close friends, here is the answer:

During the war, Hoover had placed agents with every American Embassy abroad. They had done a good job. And after the war, Hoover wanted to build up a super-spy organization to operate all over the world.

He had already had some brushes with Gen. William Donovan's OSS, which during the war was in charge of international espionage. So, when President Truman decided to consolidate overseas operations and replace the OSS with the new Central Intelligence Agency, Hoover went to the White House to plead that CIA be put under him.

Truman considered this was too much police power for one man, and limited the FBI generally to the United States. He told Hoover he was doing a good job here at home and to stick to his domestic knitting.

This upset the FBI Chief.

Protecting The President

On top of this, Hoover wanted to take over the Secret Service and its job of guarding the President. This was encouraged by Truman's close friend, Gen. Harry Vaughan. Hoover had assigned a special agent to Vaughan's office and investigated certain people Vaughan wanted investigated, which in some cases was playing politics — Democratic politics.

General Vaughan in turn did his best to persuade Truman to use the FBI instead of the Secret Service, and J. Edgar even got the House Appropriations Committee to earmark $25,000 for the FBI to protect the President.

But Truman stopped this cold. He got on the telephone to vice-president Barkley and told him he wanted the FBI kept away from the job of protecting the President. At Truman's request, Barkley blocked the FBI Appropriation.

After these two rebuffs, Hoover developed a cold hatred for Harry Truman. From that time on, he never set foot inside Truman's office.

Normally, Hoover is too shrewd to take sides in a political wrangle. But Hoover's friends say he was so bitter against Truman that he abandoned past practice and sat alongside Brownell as they both threw the book at Truman in the Harry Dexter White case.

Lobbyists' "Dog" Days

The "dog days" are supposed to be so languid that not even a yellow dog will budge out of the road. In Washington, however, the dog days are the lobbyists' heyday. This is the season when Congressmen are so hell-bent to get out of town they pass almost any legislation.

As a result, the smart lobbyists wait until the last days of Congress and then pull the right wires to stampede their bills through Congress. Here are some special interest bonanzas about to become law.

Senator Williams of Delaware has introduced a bill authorizing the admission of a Korean woman, Ching Wol Nyo Ko, to the U.S.A. she is the mother of the famed North Korean pilot who flew a Russian Mig into South Korea and was paid $100,000 by the U.S.A. as a reward. The pilot, Kum Sok No, now known as Kenneth Rowe, is living quietly as an American citizen. He is a senior at the University of Delaware. He would like his mother to enter the United States. But no lobbyist is pushing his bill.

Washington Pipeline

When Cy Anderson of the Railroad Brotherhoods worked backstage for the jury trial amendment, he found that of the 51 Senators who voted for jury trials, 32 were friendly to labor, 19 unfriendly. On the other side and voting against the jury trial amendment and for a tough civil rights bill, were various Republican reactionaries and Dixie Democrats who traditionally voted against labor — a total of 29. As a labor man, he considered himself on the right side.

Beauty Is Truth

"Beauty is truth, truth beauty, — that is all Ye know on earth, and all ye need to know." The philosophy of the poet Keats was not applicable to the beauty from Baltimore who was not content with one revarication but apparently shrouded her whole beauty campaign with them.

Mrs. Mary Leona Gage Thacker, Charis is physically a creature of beauty, but her character lacked beauty by the deception in the recent Beauty Contest where she paraded as an unmarried girl.

Perhaps now that the whole world knows her story, she will realize that to be a wife and the mother of two children is a far deeper satisfaction than being voted the most beautiful girl in the world.

Beauty without truth is no beauty at all.

The World Today

How Rights Bill Got Caught in Wringer

By JAMES MARLOW

AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON — This is an ABC on how the civil rights bill got caught in a political wringer. It will be lucky if it comes out alive.

The House debated it 14 days, the Senate a month, before passing it. The House voted the kind of bill the Eisenhower administration asked for. The Senate made drastic changes.

In the House an overwhelming number of Republicans, with a majority of Democrats, put it over against the opposition of Southern Democrats. From a political standpoint this was good business for the Republicans.

With both parties anxious for the Northern Negro vote in the 1958 and 1960 elections, Republicans could rightly say after the House vote: "We far outnumbered the Democrats in getting this bill through."

The Republicans got the jump on the Democrats in the Senate too by leading the way to consideration of the bill. But there one of the bill's main sections—no. 3—was knocked out.

This section would let the government step into all kinds of civil rights cases, not just those involving voting rights. A majority of Democrats voted for this, a majority of Republicans against.

Republicans could argue rightly the Democrats had weakened the bill. The water gets muddy here. Democrats could rightly say the knocking out of Section 3 would have been impossible unless enough Republicans helped them do it.

Then the Senate made a drastic change in Section 4, which, as passed by the House, would have done this:

In voting rights violations the government could step in and ask a judge for an order to stop them. Anyone disobeying could be tried by the judge—without a jury—and jailed for civil or criminal contempt.

The Senate changed this: A judge could still try a man for civil contempt but there must be a jury trial for criminal contempt. Further, the Senate said in any kind of criminal contempt — not just voting cases—there must be a jury trial.

An overwhelming number of Democrats, with some small Republican help, voted for this. The big majority of Republicans opposed it. Now the Republicans could argue, since this change would affect the whole judicial system, that President Eisenhower might have to veto the bill if this was the kind sent to him to sign.

The Republicans even predicted this meant the death of the bill. Democrats could argue the changes made by the Senate were, in part, an effort to compromise a bit with the Southerners to prevent a filibuster which might have blocked passage.

Further, the Democrats could say rightly this might not be exactly the bill approved by the Senate in this century.

But since House and Senate bills were different, there could be no new civil rights law at all unless both houses agreed on a single bill, either by compromise or by one yielding to the other.

And even an agreed-on bill couldn't become law unless Eisenhower was satisfied enough to sign it.

Republicans reacted sharply, even going so far as to say no bill was better than the Senate version. This put them on a political spot.

If the Republicans fought any House compromise on the Senate bill—and there was no law this year — Democrats would accuse them of killing the legislation. The Republicans could argue, as they did, that the Senate bill was a "monstrosity" which would gum up the whole court system and was worse than none.

Democrats began talking compromise: they said maybe the jury trial amendment in Section 4 could be limited to voting rights cases alone. At this moment Republicans still appear to be taking a stone-wall and perhaps politically risky stand against any jury trial amendment at all.

But then the Democrats got themselves in a box. By House procedure, the Senate bill—as a step along the path to compromise or action at all—was sent to the Rules Committee.

There a Southern Democrat — Rep. Howard Smith of Virginia—is chairman and a long-time foe of civil rights. He says he wants the bill killed. And he's trying to bottle it up in the committee to prevent any action.

There the bill now stands.

Says More Policemen Reduced City's Crime

KANSAS CITY —Police Chief Bernard Brannon says a week-long experiment of maximum police protection reduced Kansas City crime 28 per cent.

Under the experiment all officers worked 12-hour shifts, some using their own cars, and reserve officers did night duty. The police did it voluntarily, without overtime pay.

"During last week we not only stopped the rising crime rate but reversed it," Brannon said yesterday after the force returned to normal eight-hour shifts.

Congressional Junkets Will Be Normal However

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty

Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Congress is moving more rapidly toward adjournment because many members have vacation plans . . . or junkets abroad . . . which will be upset if they don't get out of Washington "around Labor Day."

Across town, the President's summer vacation at the Newport Naval Base awaits what happens on Capitol Hill.

As to those trips abroad by congressmen . . . at government expense . . . as usual a check-up with the committees found them cagey about revealing who is going where, for what purpose . . . and what will be the cost to the taxpayer.

But all those committees dealing with America's wide flung operations, military, economic or diplomatic, admit that tentative travel plans are in the works . . . awaiting the end of Congress.

The prediction of top congressional committee clerks is that junketing will be "normal" . . . although they don't use that hated word junketing.

Last year wasn't a "normal year" because of the political campaigning, and yet 37 Democrats and 36 Republicans travelled abroad and spent . . . in counter part funds alone . . . almost a half-million dollars.

Actually counterpart funds . . . (local currency equal to the amount of foreign aid) account for only a fraction of the total cost. Secrecy protects what each individual congressman spends as figures are given only on a committee basis and Congress refuses to reveal any but counterpart fund-spending.

Of course, there are good and bad junkets. Getting first hand information is needed if members on certain committees are to legislate intelligently.

But critics condemn them as a waste of time and money that permit congressmen to see the world at the expense of taxpayers. Some make extravagant demands on our Embassy and U. S. Information staffs abroad, and even damage American prestige through careless remarks and confuse foreigners who think comments by congressmen reflect official American foreign policy.

One known for adding to American prestige abroad is the oldest, and perhaps most travelled . . . Senator, Theodore Green, the 89 year old chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee. Who is doing "somewhere to be announced within a few days."

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Diefenbacher, D.D.

"I will follow you, but —" says an admirer of the Master. Many want the benefits of a close relationship with God but they wish to care for their own interests first. Too often man wishes to delay doing God's work until tomorrow. Tomorrow never comes.

We want to store up our own material treasures before we lay aside our spiritual assets in God's storehouse. We approach our spiritual and moral responsibilities with reservations. We even pray to God in a trading mood. "I shall do this, if you will do that." God does not want to bargain with men. He wants their whole selves.

The work of God's kingdom must come first. We must serve wholeheartedly and willingly without any "ifs" and "buts." God gives us everything, but we should not ask special favors for ourselves which others are not to receive.

The Mature Parent

Child's Lie Does Not Mean He's Starting Secret Life

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Hugh and his friend Rory were on their way home from Cub Scout meeting. As they were passing a building excavation, some men exploded dynamite. The boys decided to wait and see the next explosion.

Arriving home an hour late for supper, Hugh said he'd lost his Scout badge and had spent the two hours looking for it.

But Rory's mother had just telephoned the truth to his parents. Because Hugh's father was frightened by his lie, he became very angry. He feared that he'd lose all control of Hugh if the boy started making secrets of what he did.

He was so scared he couldn't see the only important thing to see about a lie—the child's belief that we disapprove his desires.

Thus Hugh's lie said to his father, "I am not a boy who could desire to see dynamite exploded. The only desire I have are those I know you approve. So I've spent these two hours virtuously laboring to find my Scout badge instead of watching men blast dynamite."

Unfortunately, Hugh's father didn't register the suspicious belief behind the boy's lie. He attacked the lie—and sent Hugh to bed, thoroughly convinced that his father could not tolerate a son who desired to watch explosions.

That we are the enemy of his desires is a dangerous conviction for any child to develop.

So the way to deal with lies is showing ourselves to be the friend of the child's desire.

Teamsters' Strike Stops Milk Delivery

NEW YORK — Teamsters Union tank truck drivers went on strike last night, crippling delivery of the bulk of the metropolitan area's raw milk supply.

Employers estimated that the 1,150 striking truck drivers haul 95 per cent of the raw milk later processed for the area's 12 million customers. Union sources estimated it at 75 per cent.

The strikers haul milk in tank trucks and box trucks from upstate New York dairy farms to distribution and processing plants in the Hudson Valley area and New York City.

The strike's full effect may not be felt for two or three days since some milk already is in processing plants and many households have a supply.

Spokesmen for two dairymen's groups said milk farmers were "innocent victims" of the strike and it would cost them a million dollars daily.

The strike announcement by Thomas L. Hickey, Teamsters Union international vice president, apparently came somewhat as a surprise to the Dairy Transport Assn., representative for 20 milk delivery concerns.

Hickey is trustee of Local 770, which with its 950 members, is the largest of the four locals involved. The others are Local 602, Brooklyn; 229, Scranton, Pa.; and 182, Utica, N.Y.

The Brooklyn and Scranton locals, union sources said, were expected to follow Local 770's lead. But Rocco DePerno, president of the Utica local, said his members were "going to keep on working."

Hickey, who said he issued the strike call with the approval of Teamster President Dave Beck, said the dispute centered over wages and fringe benefits.

Young Singer Will Be on TV Program But Different Cast

HOLLYWOOD — In a surprise switch, 13-year-old Janet Schneider of Cincinnati is going to be on TV with Red Skelton after coming West to be on the Jerry Lewis show.

A spokesman for Skelton yesterday confirmed that the young warbler, known professionally as Janet Shay, has been signed to appear on Skelton's first four shows of the winter season.

Janet auditioned for Lewis when the comedian played a stage show in Cincinnati about a month ago. It was then, Janet reported, that Lewis told her, "Come to California and be on my TV show." She took him at his word.

But when she arrived in town, Lewis was in the East. However, a Skelton representative heard her sing and the papers were signed.

Man's Neighbors File Disturbance Complaint For His Whistling

CLAREMONT, Calif. — An abatement has been slapped on a jolly fellow who says he has been whistling ever since he was a boy in Cornwallis, Ore.

That's just the trouble, claim some of Od Bachelor's neighbors, who, seeking a modicum of peace and quiet, lodged a disturbance of the peace complaint. A policeman called and told Od he'd have to knock off the whistling.

The officer said, privately, that it all seemed silly to him, and he never thought he'd have to tell a man to stop being happy.

"I guess I whistle because I have a wonderful family and a job I like," said Bachelor, "but if I'm disturbing someone I'm going to do my best to cut it out."

Bachelor has a plan. "Since the policeman came to see me, my wife has arranged to have a bowl of gumdrops always beside me. You can't eat gumdrops and whistle at the same time, you know."

Sedalia Oil Salesman Wins Trip to Havana

Bill Taylor, 2210 West Third, territory salesman for the D-X Sunray Oil Co., has won a trip to Havana for his wife and himself because of his superior sales performance.

The Taylors will fly from Kansas City to Atlanta, Ga., where they will pick up another couple who won a similar trip, and will then fly on to Miami. There they will stay overnight and fly to Havana the next day, this coming Thursday. They will remain until time for their flight back to Miami, and eventually Kansas City, on August 27.

Taylor's territory consists of Sedalia, Columbia, Marshall, Boonville and Carrollton.

Zane Gray's Widow Leaves Famed Estate To Her Children

LOS ANGELES — The widow of novelist Zane Grey bequeathed property believed to exceed $500,000 in value to her children and grandchildren.

Under a will filed for probate yesterday in Superior Court, Mrs. Lina Elise Grey left the famous Grey estate in Altadena, Calif., to a son, Romer Grey, and his wife. Property owned by the Western writer and Mrs. Grey at Catalina Island, offshore from Los Angeles, was left to other children, Loren Grey and Mrs. Betty Zane Grosso. Stock in Zane Grey, Inc., was left to the grandchildren.

Mrs. Grey, 74, died July 26. Her husband died in 1939.

Ike Doctrine Is Blamed For Troubles

DAMASCUS, Syria — Foreign Minister Salah Bitar says the Eisenhower doctrine is destroying the independence of the Arab world and delivering it "into Zionism and imperialism."

Bitar told a news conference yesterday the U.S. program is to blame for Syria's current troubles with the United States.

"Syria has been the target of destructive activities aimed at making her accept the Eisenhower Doctrine," Bitar said. "It is already known that the main object of the conspiracy to overthrow the Syrian and Egyptian regimes is to set up governments that will change from liberal foreign policies and join the imperialistic line."

"In addition to her desire to harm Syria's independent policy," Bitar declared, "the United States recently launched plans for an economic embargo against Syria. She offered to sell American wheat at prices lower than in the United States itself to several countries which usually buy Syrian wheat."

Bitar declared that countries which accepted the Eisenhower Doctrine had become "nests of intrigue and plots against Syria and Egypt."

Asked whether Syria would consider breaking relations with the United States, Bitar replied: "This question depends on the United States and steps she wants to adopt in the future."

Relations between the two countries have been near the breaking point since Syria accused the United States of plotting to overthrow the regime.

U.S. Embassy officials have labeled the Syrian charges a "complete fabrication."

Three U.S. Embassy officials were withdrawn at Syria's request and the United States pulled out its ambassador and ousted the Syrian envoy in Washington.

Reports Fighting On Morocco Coast

PARIS — Reports reaching Paris today said fighting broke out between Spanish soldiers and Moroccan civilians Friday in the Spanish enclave of Ifni on the southwest coast of Morocco.

There was no indication of the number of casualties.

The reports — which were not confirmed — said that after the incidents, Spanish planes and ships made a show of force along the coast of the enclave.

Ifni, a tiny pocket of land in southern Morocco, has been repeatedly claimed by the Moroccans.

Judge Will Hold First Court in Six Years

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — George F. Hardman, police judge of suburban West Buechel for six years, will hold court for the first time Aug. 31.

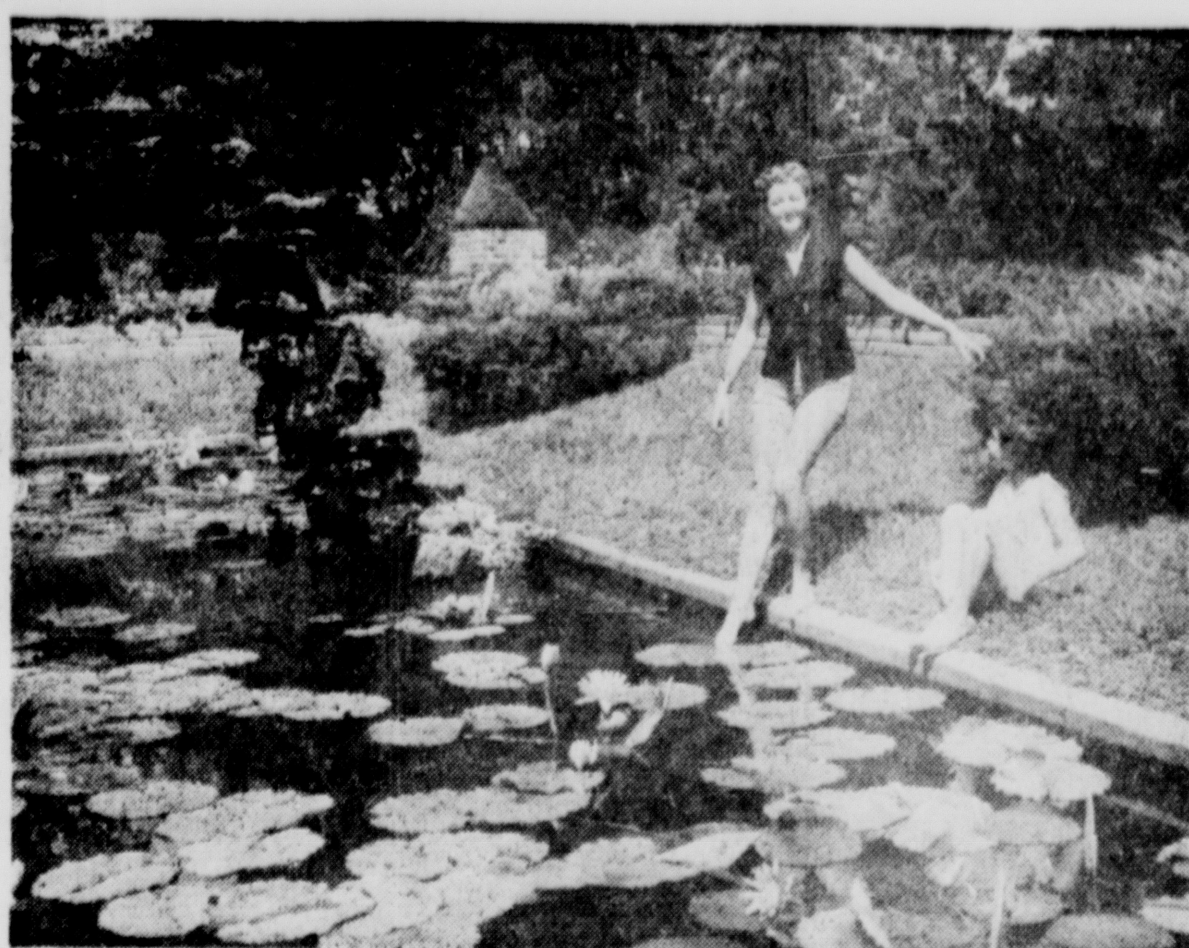

The reason for the delay? West Buechel had no town marshal and therefore there were no arrests. Hence, no need for a judge.

Hugh Johnson was hired recently as town marshal and already has made a few arrests.

Singer Makes Vow to Keep Up Battle

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — "Do I pray? Sure. But the best prayer is action. I think. And I'm going to continue working as hard as I can until I'm well again."

This is the vow of handsome, dark-haired Ronnie Deauville, who a year ago had a thriving career as a pop singer. Today he is confined to a wheel chair.

Life was a breeze for Ronnie until the morning of Oct. 2, 1956. He had built up a name as a vocalist with Tommy Dorsey, Glenn Gray, Tex Beneke and Ray Anthony. He signed with Mercury records and was making a go of it as a single. He had a lovely wife, Pat, and four children.

He was driving that morning after an early morning shower had dampened Western Avenue. A couple of schoolboys were racing another car and it skidded and crashed head-on into Ronnie's car.

At first the doctor said Ronnie had a severe whiplash. The singer couldn't move his head.

A few days later, he couldn't move his legs. Then he had trouble breathing. Paralysis seemed to be creeping up on him. Unable to communicate with hospital attendants, he was about to give up the great struggle to breathe when his wife appeared and had him rushed to an iron lung. He stayed in the lung for five months.

"I tried to ponder why this had happened to me," he said. "Strange as it may sound, I concluded that it probably was a good thing."

"Now I've had a chance to realize how lucky I am. I know even more what a wonderful wife I have, and I've gotten acquainted with my family. And I think I've gotten better acquainted with God."

"With God's help, I'll make it," he declared, speaking of rebuilding his career. "One of the things that has helped me is the good wishes of people I don't even know. One woman who had had 25 operations and faced another wrote me to keep up my spirit. Imagine!"

'Holiday On Ice' Opens, Has Fine Cast and Lineup

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The all-new 12th annual edition of Holiday on Ice had a good start and will continue to be the feature attraction at the fair through August 22.

A company of one hundred, including many outstanding international ice performers and several who are favorites in Sedalia last year, present a two-and-a-half hour performance of lavish spectacle, comedy and thrilling skating by champions.

The company is headed by beautiful Joan Hyldt, who was recently starred at the Roxy Theatre, New York for two consecutive years. She is presented in "The Nutcracker," one of the most elaborate scenes ever produced on ice and she teams with Pacific coast champion figure-skater, Bill Blocker in "Cavalcade of Show Business."

Mr. Blocker was a showstopper in last year's production and a special favorite in Sedalia.

Also returning for the second year is portly Phil Hiser and lovely Gina Rubaki in their nostalgic number, "Down Memory Lane."

Other head-liners include the daring acro-adagio team, Alice Farrar and James Carter; new comer to the American ice stage, Patricia Gregory, Australian champion; Bobby Blake, ice-demon's king of rhythm and fiery, speed skater, Don Watson.

Comedy highlights the entire production with many hilarious scenes by Joe Jackson, Jr., Harvey Weber, Ted Deeley, Flip & Flop and Neville Murray.

The five Percellys from Germany present one of the most daring acts on ice. Ten year old, Juanita Percelly captures the hearts of young and old alike.

A line of 36 young precision-skaters are featured in five elaborately staged production numbers.

Last year Holiday On Ice played to more than 24,000 in Sedalia and it is expected that the new, more Ice will give a performance each night beginning at 7:15. Tickets are on sale in the Administration Building.

Through this week, Holiday on Ice will attract even larger audiences.

Pleasant Weather Prevails Over Most Of Nation Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There were a few areas of rain, but mostly fair and pleasant weather prevailed in most of the nation today.

Rain which fell yesterday in wide areas along the Atlantic Coast states from Florida into southern Maine diminished considerably during the night as a disturbance moved off the mid-Atlantic Coast.

The rain belt was confined to sections of southern New York and southward along the Virginia coast but skies were cloudy in many parts of the East Coast. Showers were indicated during the day in some sections of New England and southern Florida.

A southerly flow of air brought warmer weather into the Plains and a warming trend was reported from the upper Mississippi Valley eastward across most of the Great Lakes region and northern New England.

Davidson Gets Trophy

Competition Rises
In Horseshow at Fair

Heated competition developed in the Roadster to Bike, amateur driver class of the Monday night horse show at the Missouri State Fair much to the delight of the crowd. Preston Hanover, owned by Frisco Pharmacy, Joplin, and driven by R. L. Davidson, was tied the winner with but few points ahead of Air Borne, owned and shown by W. E. Osborn, Belton, Missouri.

In the Five-Gaited gelding class it was anything but an easy win for King Aladdin owned by Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Jones, Kansas City, and shown by Martin Mueller. With sixteen horses competing the showmanship of each rider had to be brought in pin-point fashion.

In the Roadster class the Robert E. Lee Memorial trophy was presented to the owner, on behalf of the Missouri Horse Shows Association.

R. P. Davidson, received the beautiful trophy presented by Mr. and Mrs. William Sermon of Independence, Mo.

Monday's show was largely attended and the crowd was entertained not only by the many fine horse entries but by the Lou Breese famous orchestra which is appearing nightly at the show. Tuesday night and Wednesday an added feature will be heard at the show when Miss Brenda Lee, nine-year-old recording star of television and radio, appears.

The Monday results:

Yanks Should Win

NL Plays Russian Roulette;
Records Favor Braves, Cards

By ED WILKS

The Associated Press

That's a weird game of Russian roulette, with a strange twist, that Milwaukee, St. Louis and Brooklyn are playing in the National League pennant race. You're dead if you shoot a blank.

The Braves, even with a 6½-game lead, can't afford to ease off. The Cardinals, in second after their worst slump in a decade, can't afford anything less than a quick winning string. And for the third-place Dodgers it's Brooklyn against the world with nobody a pushover any more.

That's the picture as the West makes its final tour through the East this season — and its last stand at the Polo Grounds, where New York's Giants are starting to pack for the trip to San Francisco.

From the record, Milwaukee and St. Louis have the edge, with Milwaukee .632, St. Louis .611, and Brooklyn .551.

The Cardinals open at the Polo Grounds with a two-nighter in a three-game set with the Giants, who have won 11 of their 14.

The Redlegs have a two-nighter at Ebbets Field tonight. The Chicago Cubs play two at Philadelphia.

There was only one game in the majors yesterday and Kansas City defeated Cleveland 1-0 with a combination of long shots. Tom Gorman (.37), who hadn't had a complete game in almost a year and hadn't pitched a shutout since 1952, beat the Indians with a four-hitter—riding in on an RBI single by Tim Lincecum, who was 0-for-42, going back to July 23. Ray Narleski lost it with a five-hitter for a 9-3 record.

McGraw died in 1934. He led the Giants to 10 National League pennants and during his reign the rest of the league lived in mortal fear of them. The Giants of those days were like the New York Yankees of today.

Mrs. McGraw never forgot the club. In the intervening years, she has taken her accustomed seat near the Giants' dugout in the Polo Grounds at least three times a week during home stands.

"Old-time Giant fans know me and bring their children to talk to me," she recalled. "They want me to tell them about Mr. McGraw and his teams."

"That makes me happy because it keeps Mr. McGraw's memories alive. The children are pleased because they know they are talking to someone who knew first hand about the wonderful Giant teams of the past."

First base umpire Carl Kellogg called Kubli out and returned Swafford to first, ruling that Kubli had interfered with Bechtold. Sedalia, thinking that Kellogg had returned Swafford to first because Kubli ran outside of the 45-foot line which runs parallel to first base from home plate, questioned Kellogg's call.

A quick survey showed the line was actually 65 feet long and Sedalia filed a protest with plate umpire Russ Gilmore stating that the game was played on an improperly marked field.

NEW YORK (AP)—The Giants, after three quarters of a century in New York, have decided to relocate their baseball franchise in San Francisco.

The official move will come sometime between Oct. 1 and Oct. 31, the specified time for any such action.

The Giants are not expected to make the 3,000-mile trek across the country alone. In all likelihood their long-time rivals, the Brooklyn Dodgers, will move to Los Angeles.

President Walter O'Malley of the Dodgers was not available for comment but an announcement regarding the Dodgers' intentions is expected sometime next week when the board of directors meets to consider a move to California.

Horace Stoneham, Giant president, declined to discuss the possibility of the Dodgers' moving, but another Giant official, who declined use of his name, said emphatically: "You can bet all the money you've got the Dodgers will be in Los Angeles next year."

A Los Angeles resident who expressed certainty of the coming of the Dodgers was Leo Durocher, onetime manager of both the Dodgers and Giants.

"I thought the Dodgers were almost a cinch to come first but it looks like the Giants have simply beaten them to the punch," Durocher said.

Stoneham's reason for recommending the transfer was poor attendance.

"We had to go now," he said, "because if we had waited until our lease at the Polo Grounds expired in 1962, there probably wouldn't be a good place left to move. Another thing, if we hadn't acted as fast as we did, some other club would have beaten us to San Francisco. They made us such an attractive offer, we just couldn't turn it down."

The "attractive offer" included a 45,000-seat stadium to be built by San Francisco, at a rental of 5 per cent of the attendance, plus ownership of the concessions.

"We plan to play in the Seals Stadium next season even though I have been told the park might be ready in 1958," said Stoneham. "Even with its limited capacity (22,000), I'm certain the attendance will be well over a million. Together with a million and a half guarantee we will receive from our contract with Skiatron, which will telecast our home game on a pay-as-you-see basis, I can visualize a more profitable year than any we ever had in New York."

Eight of the nine members of the Board of Directors voted for the move. The lone dissenter was M. Donald Grant, a Wall Street broker, who thought the Giants should remain in New York.

Rosters for State Fair Bowl Teams Are Announced

Rosters for both the Eastern All-Stars and the Western All-Stars of the State Fair Bowl Football game were announced here today by Porter Robb, chairman, of the bowl game.

The State Fair bowl game is sponsored by the Sedalia Rotary Club for its project fund, which is used principally for its youth activity program in Sedalia. Proceeds from the game, which will be played on Friday, Aug. 30, at the Jennie Jayes Stadium, will go to such activities as the Crippled Children's Center, Little League, Teen Town and the school milk fund.

Paul Pappas, Boonville High School coach, will serve as the mentor of the Eastern All-Stars, while Francis Galbraith, North Kansas City High coach, will head up the Western aggregation. Players are 1957 graduating seniors from various high schools throughout Missouri.

The squads are as follows:

Program Note

NEW YORK — Showgoers are to have a new kind of program handed them when they attend Broadway productions hereafter. Playbill, the name of the program distributed in all theaters, is going to take on a feature magazine format. In addition, advertisers no longer can choose only particular shows for their advertising. Instead their ads will appear in the programs of all shows, hits and flops alike.

Tops Halfway Mark For Western Tourney

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Kenneth Heileman, a 41-year-old salesman from Kirkwood, Mo., was on top today at the halfway mark in the qualifying round for the Western Amateur golf tournament.

Heileman's 70 was the only sub-par round yesterday over Old Warson Country Club's long 6,902 yards.

A stroke back at 71, were Edgar Uudegraf, a 35-year-old veteran of amateur tournaments from Tucson, Ariz., Ed Brantley, the Southern Open champion from Memphis State College, and Ward Wettlaufer, National Collegiate runnerup from Hamilton College in New York.

Chick Evans, the 67-year-old Chicagoan who has won the Western eight times, had a 79.

After another 18 holes today, the low 50-plus ties will shoot 36 holes Wednesday. The low 16 then will go into four days of match play for the championship, winding up Sunday.

Patterson Winds Up Training

SEATTLE (AP)—This is tapering-off day in the champion's camp as Floyd Patterson winds up training for a Thursday bout that Manager Gus D'Amato calls "the most heavily publicized fight in 30 years."

"Not even the Dempsey-Tunney fights captured the interest of press and public as this one has," D'Amato said yesterday while Patterson was winding up his strenuous training program.

Challenger Pete Rademacher planned one more session of heavy work today before breaking camp. The Olympic champion from Grandview, Wash., retains his air of quiet confidence as fight time nears.

"Even before the fight I feel repaid," said the 28-year-old challenger who will net nary a nickel from the fracas. "The realization of a dream is payment enough." Rademacher himself proposed the fight to D'Amato, who was intrigued at the idea of pitting the world's amateur king against the professional champion for the first time in history.

The fact that the fight has been panned as a "mismatch" by ex-fighters, ring officials, a Congressman and many writers has not bothered any of the principals.

The placid Patterson, refusing to consider Rademacher anything but a dangerous opponent has stuck faithfully to a stiff training program. The champion will go into the bout weighing about 184 and, D'Amato says, "in peak condition, physically and mentally."

Both fighters will break camp tomorrow and rest until the weigh-in scheduled for Thursday noon.

Favorite Colt, Top Fillies To Be in Race

Interest to Center On Cassin Hanover, 77-Year-Old Driver

Habletonian bound fillies, the colt that was the winter book favorite for the $100,000 classic, the new champion 3 year old pacing filly and 13 2-year-old pacing "stars of tomorrow" combine to make Wednesday's Grand Circuit harness racing card one of the finest ever to be presented at the Missouri State Fair.

The fillies who have a date with The Hambletonian at DuQuoin next week are Cassin Hanover, Rhonda Hanover, Flicka Frost and Starita, four of the six entered. Principal interest will center on Cassin Hanover, who is being piloted by 77-year-old Fred Egan, seeking to become the oldest driver ever to win the classic.

Hickory Smoke, the winter book choice for the big race, has drawn the number one post position in the $5,000 Big 5 trot, a race which has attracted eight starters, all of them except the 3-year-old Hickory Smoke being aged horses.

The field in the $3,000 Breeder's Filly Stake for sophomores is a limited one, with only three entered, but one of them is the new champion Newport Judy, who last week conquered previously unbeaten Good Counsel by clicking off a final quarter in 27.2-5 seconds as Good Counsel made a break. The latter filly is unsound and will not start at Sedalia.

Time Me, Joe O'Brien's wining entry at Springfield last week, is favored in the filly trot but both Cassin Hanover and Flicka Frost, the latter to be driven by the nation's leading driver Billy Haughton, are expected to give her plenty of trouble.

In the $16,171 Geers Stake for 2-year-old pacers the bulky field of 13 is headed by Thorpe Hanover who won the $15,000 Little Pat Stake at Springfield last week. Thorpe Hanover, with Del Miller driving, has drawn the difficult number 10 post but is still the choice with Painter rated second best.

The Blanquita theater, in Havana, Cuba, with 6500 seats, has the largest seating capacity of any theater in the world.

Man Describes View From High Altitude In Plastic Balloon

CROSBY, Minn. (AP)—"I have a ringside view of the heavens—it is indescribable."

This was the terse message early today from an Air Force major riding a huge plastic balloon toward a possible new altitude mark for such craft after setting a 100,000-foot record, about 19 miles, yesterday in his first 15 hours aloft.

Dr. David G. Simons said by radio the night heavens ranged from deep violet to jet black and that he had an excellent view of the Aurora Borealis.

The giant polyethylene bag, 280 feet long and 200 in diameter, was launched from a 450-foot-deep mine pit here at 9:30 a.m. yesterday. Aside from condition reports, ground crews tracking the balloon said Simons' radio is used mostly for data to be used in evaluating man's chances for survival in outer space. He also is taking hundreds of pictures.

10-Round Draw Earns Return Bout Sept. 9

NEW YORK (AP)—A bustling 10-round draw today earned Lulu Perez and Bobby Bell a return bout at St. Nicholas Arena Sept. 9. The matchmaker, Teddy Brenne, signed the two little men to a 132-pound contract as a reward for their good show in the telecast fight at St. Nick's last night.

Bell, who was outweighted 135½ to 128½, finished strong in the last two rounds to gain the even split. Referee Petey Della had Bell, of Youngstown, Ohio, ahead 5-4-1. Judge Mike Davidowitch had Perez, of Brooklyn, in front 7-3. Judge Leo Birnbaum had it even 5-5 in rounds and 6-6 in points.

Man's Smile Causes Dismissal of Two Damage Suit Trials

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Roy J. (Rusty) Burrell, 31, a bailiff, will be known around the courthouse from now on as the man whose smiles cause mistrials.

Rusty won $2,091 in damages yesterday for injuries he and his wife Clara suffered in an auto accident last year. But not before Rusty's broad grin caused two mistrials.

Defense counsel called it "a knowing smile" when Rusty's face lit up during questioning of a prospective juror. So the jury was dismissed. Then when Rusty smiled friendly like at the judge, under whom he had served briefly as bailiff, defense counsel again protested. Jury again dismissed.

So the case was transferred to another judge. This time Rusty kept a straight face and won.

To speed up the time of one express train may mean changes in the timing of 300 other trains.

Hal Boyle's Column

If You Have Insomnia, You Have Company; Cows Do, Too

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That it's been found cows suffer from insomnia.

That during the Middle Ages parishioners often took dogs to church. Some of England's old churches still have hooks or rings to which the dogs were leashed.

That there's about an acre of government-owned forest land for each U.S. resident.

That the average car has over 15,000 parts. But the only one which comes without a guarantee is the driver.

That you can go for a free boat ride in New York merely by getting a pass to Governors Island on the government ferry boat.

That Americans consume a pound of fish for every 17 pounds of meat.

That there's a woman in Norman, Ark., by the name of True Love.

That although the U.S. Marine Corps stresses the opportunity it offers for travel and adventure, a survey showed most men enlisted to learn a trade.

That the middle-aged say "I don't know," whereas the younger generation more often answer, "I wouldn't know."

That hair nets were first worn by Chinese women centuries ago. Married women wore black silk nets to distinguish them from spinners.

That ancient Persians believed the earth rested on a gigantic sapphire, which was mirrored by the sky.

That the next time you get raw and boiled eggs mixed, here's how to tell them apart: Spin the eggs on a table. Boiled eggs will whirl rapidly about, while uncooked eggs will only make a sluggish turn or two.

That the chirping of a small cricket can be heard for almost a mile.

That in Africa the crocodile birds sit on their eggs, not to warm them but to cool them. If left uncovered in the hot sun, their eggs would cook instead of hatch.

That every time you speak a single word, 72 muscles are involved.

That the best way to locate a tiny splinter is to touch the wounded area with iodine and look for the spot that shows darkest.

That giraffes, when fighting, often swing their long necks like baseball bats in an effort to knock each other off balance.

That it was Heraclitus, who wrote in the 6th century before Christ, "There is nothing permanent except change."

Woman Is Sentenced To Life in Prison For Shooting Man

MARTINEZ, Calif. (AP) — Josephine McDaniel, 49, was sentenced to life in prison yesterday for slaying Harold A. McDaniel in the belief he was her former husband.

Mrs. McDaniel pleaded guilty to a first degree murder charge. She said she was bitter over a property dispute in connection with her divorce from Harvey McDaniel and sought to trace him through an automobile license number.

The trail led to Harold McDaniel's home in Richmond, Calif. He was shot May 10 in the dark doorway of his house and died five days later.

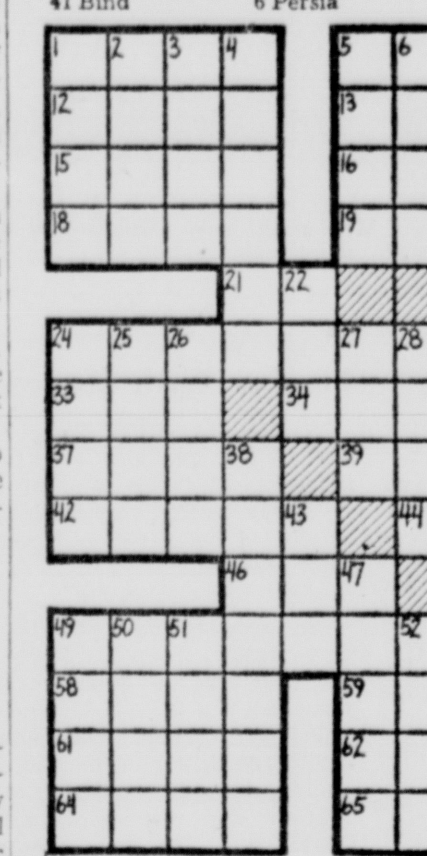

Mrs. McDaniel said she had tried twice previously to shoot her former husband once in Florida and again in Arizona.

Hewn From Rock

The elaborately-carved temples and decorations at Ajanta and Ellora, in the Indian state of Hyderabad, were hewn from the solid rock by Buddhist monks, priests, and laymen, who worked by sun and torchlight for more than 1,000 years on the job.

Woman Strangled In Hollywood Home

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A housewife was garroted yesterday in her home in the fashionable Los Feliz district. It was the third such homicide in the Hollywood area in five months.

Mrs. Esther Greenwald, 53, was found lying in a hallway of her home by her husband, Maurice, when he returned home from work. She was still wearing her night gown and house coat. The cord from the coat was knotted around her throat.

Police said the home had not been robbed.

There are almost 500,000 lamas, or priests, in Tibet. They make up one-fourth of the population of that cold, wind-swept land.

Army Worms Still Riddling Late Corn Crop In State

By Merle Vaughan
Pettis County Agent

Fall Army Worms

Fall army worms are still riddling late corn. Many fields are being held back so much by the worms that the chances of making hard corn are becoming less and less.

Sprays containing toxaphene at two pounds per acre, or dieldrin at four ounces per acre, have been giving good control.

We tried using granulated insecticides applied by aircraft. Where the swath width was limited to the wing span of the airplane, we had good results with 15 pounds of 10 per cent toxaphene granules per acre, 15 pounds of 5 per cent DDT granules per acre, or eight pounds of 2 per cent endrin granules per acre. Where the swath width was expanded past 35 feet, however, control dropped very sharply in the outer rows.

We still don't know what to expect from these worms after the late corn begins to tassel. But be on the watch for them in sorghum—in the whorls of later fields, and in the heads of early crops.

Webworms

For several weeks we have been mentioning webworms in alfalfa, but they are still a problem in many fields. Particularly they are a problem in alfalfa that has not been growing rapidly because of dry weather.

Don't spray alfalfa unless you are convinced it will make considerably more growth before being ready to cut. Ordinarily, if the hay is within about two weeks of normal cutting, spraying is a poor bet. The worms will leave an infested field before new growth begins to appear.

When webworms show up in soybeans, spray with two pounds of toxaphene or four ounces of dieldrin. If you spray alfalfa, use one pound of malathion per acre.

Corn Rootworm Adults

Adults of both the northern and southern corn rootworms are causing damage to silking corn in different communities scattered over the state. Heavily infested fields are widely scattered.

Much needs to be known about the amount of damage these insects actually cause. We hope to have more information by another year, but at the present we can't give you even a rule of thumb as to when a field should be sprayed. Damage results from the beetles feeding on the silks, thus preventing pollination. After the silks have browned, there would be no reason for spraying.

A spray of two pounds of toxaphene, or four ounces of dieldrin per acre has given us good control of the beetles. Use one of these dosages if you think a field is being hurt sufficiently to justify control.

Blister Beetles

We have been finding blister beetles in soybeans in some areas. Only a few fields seem to be infested, but those that will be seriously hurt in a short time if controls are not used.

In soybeans or grain where residues are not a problem, dieldrin at eight ounces per acre is giving excellent control.

Horseflies

Horsefly numbers are picking up in the eastern portion of the state. There's no good control for horseflies. On dairy cattle that are in the stable every day, you can spray with an activated pyrethrum spray and get fair results. On cattle running on the pasture, there is no practical control.

For GOP Nomination

Report Knowland Is Read To Accept Knight Challenge

WASHINGTON (AP)—Friends say Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) is all set to accept the challenge of Gov. Goodwin J. Knight to fight it out in next year's primary for the Republican nomination for governor of California.

Knowland was outwardly unperturbed by Knight's announcement in Sacramento yesterday that he is a candidate for renomination. Knowland also registered no public reaction to Knight's blast at those who Knight said would use the state office as a "pawn in the presidential contest." This remark was interpreted as aimed mainly at Knowland.

"I have no comment beyond the fact that I always have assumed the governor would be a candidate for renomination," Knowland said. "There are no changes in my plans which have been previously announced."

Knight said he was making his declaration early "to resolve any doubts concerning my intentions."

Knowland, the Senate's Republican leader, has announced he will not seek re-election. He has left open the possibility of a bid for the governorship with the state, but he will announce his intentions during a speaking tour in California next month.

There remains no doubt among Knowland's associates here that he will seek to oust Knight as the party nominee. If Knowland succeeds and if he then is elected governor, he could be expected to make a strong bid for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination.

In obvious reference to this, Knight said California has two "able and distinguished men" who are potential candidates for the national nomination. The other he meant is Vice President Nixon.

Then, in a dig apparently at both of them, he said: "The governor's office of California, at this critical period, however, is far too important to the welfare of the people of this state to be allowed to become a pawn in the presidential contest."

Nixon's friends have come to the conclusion he will support Knowland against Knight, despite the fact that the vice president recognizes Knowland as a threat to his own ambitions for the GOP presidential nomination.

Knowland, who has been watching California newspaper polls closely, seems confident he can take Knight's measure in a primary battle.

Mount Rainier was named for Peter Rainier, British admiral, who figured in the American revolution.

Plays Important Role

Use 'Black Light' to Check For Asian Flu in Hospital

By RENNIE TAYLOR
AP Science Reporter

LIVERMORE, Calif. (AP)—A big hospital building internally bathed in "black light" is the setting for an unusual experiment designed to show whether the new Asian flu can be transmitted from one person to another through the air.

Inside this building, part of the Veterans Administration hospital here, are about 140 long-term patients. So long as they are patients they will not be allowed to leave the structure, which has been equipped with a barber shop, a chapel and other features to make it virtually a fortress.

The building and its occupants, as well as other units of the VA institution, await the onset of the expected flu epidemic — which some health authorities say could affect as much as a third of the U.S. population.

The Veterans Administration disclosed the project today in announcing that the patients in the building plus the 520 employees of the entire VA unit had volunteered to play parts in the test.

The experiment is important because medical science does not know how the influenza virus moves from one human being to another. Some authorities say it travels through the air. Others say it can infect a person only by direct contact with another who harbors the disease organism.

Evidence on exactly how it is spread could be of help. It might show whether the flu organism could be stopped by a radiation barrier, or whether some degree of isolation is effective.

Black light, or ultraviolet, as it is called, is a form of radiation. It makes certain substances glow brilliantly in the dark. It can kill some kinds of germs. It can cause sunburn. Long exposure could produce injury to the eyes.

The walls of the test structure, known as Building 62, are studded with ultraviolet lamps, so aimed that their rays do not strike patients or employees directly but irradiate the air volume.

Samples of blood serum have been taken from every patient in Building 62 and in all employees of the Livermore hospital installation.

These samples are being checked for the presence of Asian flu at the government's communicable disease center in Atlanta. From this the Public Health Service will know just which ones, if any, have had the Asian flu and which have not.

After the expected epidemic sweeps through, blood samples will be taken from these same patients and employees and checked again for signs of flu infection.

The employees generally will not have the benefit of ultraviolet radiated air. If the percentage of infection among them turns out to be higher than among the patients of Building 62 it will be a pretty good indication that ultraviolet has some deterrent effect on the disease organism, said Dr. Harrison S. Collis, manager of the Livermore installation.

Boys Are Escorted To Zoo With Money

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—A fund to buy two new giraffes for Oklahoma City's zoo was $60 richer today after two youngsters telephoned for a police escort for their contributions. The zoo's two giraffes died last month.

The boys—Grand Lord, 10, and Kurt Austin, 7—were picked up yesterday by a police cruiser, along with a small safe and a gallon jug, loaded with pennies.

With red light blinking and siren wailing, the officers delivered the boys and their pennies to the Park Department. The boys promised: "We'll collect some more."

Weather Delays Test

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP)—Stormy weather has delayed "Doppler," code name for the Atomic Energy Commission's 13th nuclear test this year. It is tentatively scheduled for tomorrow morning.
